

At dusk on a modern city rooftop, the red-and-gold armored superhero known as Iron Man strides along the edge of a helipad, his polished metal plates reflecting neon signs and distant traffic lights.

Iron Man blasts upward from the rooftop. He rockets between skyscrapers at night, reflective glass rushing by, motion blur on bright windows, contrails from his boots spiraling. He banks hard around a tower antenna, then accelerates above the skyline.

.....

Iron Man ascends through the troposphere and then hovers above the Earth. The planet Earth fills the background, showing blue oceans, white swirling clouds, and a thin atmospheric rim.
